Formatting Guidelines

- Length: 250–300 words for the abstract body (excluding title and author details).
- Font: Times New Roman or equivalent, 11–12pt, single-spaced, when submitting as a standalone document.
- Figures/Tables: A maximum of one supporting figure or table may be included, with a concise caption.
- References: Not required in the abstract body itself; limit to essential citations only if unavoidable.
- File Format: Submit as a .DOCX or .PDF file, named using the primary author's surname (e.g. Smith_Abstract.pdf).
